No wonder you pick good blues records to spin; you are an excellent bass player! I have enjoyed listening to the fantastic voice of Frank Couture and Broken Blues since I got it. It's a great band, and a great selection of blues tunes. Yannick Lavigne is a fine guitarist and I have been a fan of Jimmy James since he opened for us at Bourbon Street West. The arrangements and playing are all top notch. Marc-Andre Bedard's Bo Diddley beat on 'Desire' is authentic as can be. The production sounds very nice and full and some of the stereo effects are very cool. Couture and Tremblay both are convincing harmonica players in the tradition of the Chicago harmonica greats like Little Walter, James Cotton, Big Walter Horton, Carey Bell and Junior Wells. It is a job well done, Luc. Thank you for sending me a copy. Sorry it took me so long to reply.

Yours in the Blues,
